

Up and coming performances by the Royal Australian Navy Band

October 2014:

Centenary of Embarkation of WWI Troop ships

When: Sunday 19th October 2014

Time: 6:00pm

Where: Princes Pier, Melbourne

Featuring: The Melbourne Detachment of the Royal Australian Navy Band

Cost: Free

More Information: Farewell to war is an evocative performance of promenade theatre that will remember the sights and sounds of the departure of the first troops of volunteers embarking on HMAT Orvieto on 21 October, 1914.

A procession will march down Beach Street (from Bay Street) towards Princes Pier. This procession will be a performed re-enactment representing the many hundreds of soldiers, young men and women in uniform, who marched down the street that day, on their way to the European war front. Along the way, the group will pass harbingers of the future – the Port Melbourne World War I memorial and the Women's Welcome Home Band Rotunda. Individuals will join the procession from the side streets, swelling the numbers of the marchers as they proceed along the foreshore.
